Dear Mr. Kolojejchick,

Community Services of Venango County, Inc. provides thirty-one events and programs designed to plant resources, grow opportunities, and nurture hope in the families and community that we serve. Two of the many ways that we accomplish our mission is through our food pantries in Oil City and Rocky Grove. In 2018, our pantries gave out 103,858 food items, and 11,312 clothing and miscellaneous items, helping 10,824 families and individuals. It is because of donations like yours that we can serve our community and we are truly thankful.

A family wrote a thank you to CSVC this year saying, "It truly amazes me just how many families need food and clothing help. It's people like you and organizations like yours who make it so much better for our community. You help people make it from month to month to get by and I for one am your biggest fan."

Thank you again for your support and for the generous donation of school supplies. Your organization is helping people make it from month to month. We are fortunate that you and PASR are so keenly aware of families' and their struggles and engage with us to reduce insecurity in our community. We appreciate your partnering with us to provide hope for those in need.

Sincerely,

Meghan Dunham
Social Services Director
